Design: Identify Job Duties and Value

Job Purpose and Organizational Context

Why the job exists:

The Alberta Emergency Management Agency (AEMA) is accountable and responsible to the Government of Alberta (GoA), to Albertans, to their communities, and to industry for the protection of people, their property and the environment from the effects of emergency events. The AEMA accomplishes its objectives by leading the co-ordination, collaboration and co-operation between all entities involved in prevention, preparedness, response, and recovery activities.

The Recovery Branch assists individuals, businesses, municipalities, Metis Settlements, and government departments' recovery from damaged caused by a disaster by coordinating resources within the GOA and providing expert advice and financial assistance for uninsurable damages that are repair or restorative in nature as per the regulations of a disaster financial assistance program and broader recovery guidance. Within AEMA, the Business Operational Supports unit provides internal supports to the branch in their work, providing coordination and technical supports in the forms of IT solutions and maintenance, the development of business standards, best practices, business planning and reporting, as well as the development, coordination and delivery of training.

Reporting to the Manager Business Operational Supports (BOS), the Business Analyst position contributes to the development and maintenance of business processes for multiple assigned Recovery Branch Projects and ad hoc requests. Projects span process solutions, stakeholder engagement processes, information management and policy etc. This position will also support a coordinated approach to assessing the viability of process improvements that enhance the delivery model for disaster financial assistance programs.

The Business Analyst coordinates and completes the gathering and system level analysis of ongoing lessons learned and new or changing process/business requirements for Recovery administration. This position proactively assesses and analyzes processes and procedures to contribute to the development and implementation of solutions that will enhance Recovery's processes, while building and maintaining effective working relationships with internal and external stakeholders. The analysis provided by the Business Analyst contributes to the development of recommendations for new Recovery policies and processes.

Responsibilities

Job outcomes (4-6 core results), and for each outcome, 4-6 corresponding activities:

Provide business analysis services to Recovery Branch staff at an levels to identify and help address a wide variety of needs related to

- Recovery Projects and day-to-day business processes.
- Assist in identifying ongoing improvements for business processes.
- Coordinate the gathering of process requirements for new or changing processes.
- Facilitate workshops and ongoing information gathering sessions and blending technical expertise with an informed awareness of internal processes and GoA requirements.
- Analyze and document current and potential business functions including workflows, processes, and procedures. Proactively identify, assess and analyze alternatives and solutions to meet Recovery's business needs.
- Assist in the identification of opportunities to effectively apply existing and new technology to better address the functional and business requirements for process efficiency.

quality, and meet business requirements.

This position may be required to work in the Provincial Emergency Coordination Centre or the Provincial Recovery Coordination Centre during emergencies in order to coordinate provincial emergency response and recovery efforts. In these circumstances, the position may require working extended and irregular hours and/or shifts with minimal or no notice, particularly during emergencies and exercises.

Problem Solving

Typical problems solved:

This position provides business analysis services to multiple assigned projects that focus on transforming disaster recovery programs; the work of this position directly impacts the identification, development and implementation of suitable solutions and provides evidence to back business transformation decisions. Projects range from IT focused to policy to various business processes such as stakeholder engagement, requiring the incumbent to be flexible and adapt business analysis methods to different situations. The incumbent might also lead specific parts of projects. Judgment is applied to determine how best to apply analytical methods and to determine how best to present results. The incumbent must be able to consider specific projects in the broader context of Recovery transformation and to integrate multiple pieces of information from multiple sources.

Particularly complex situations where precedents might not exist are discussed with the Manager and project and branch management for guidance in resolution

Types of guidance available for problem solving:

Reporting to the Manager, this position works both independently and as part of a broader project team with general guidance and is responsible for leading an assigned portfolio of projects and activities. The incumbent is expected to manage and participate in multiple projects simultaneously

The Manager and Director provide strategic direction and support in navigating cross-ministry collaboration, stakeholder engagement, and alignment with ministry and agency goals. The position also collaborates with internal program areas and external partners to ensure consistency with GoA standards and to incorporate subject matter expertise into planning and evaluation efforts

Direct or indirect impacts of decisions:

Strategic decision recommendations and reports that could impact decisions regarding program policy and delivery

Changes to the Branch's operational capabilities and approach, both internally and potentially externally

Changes to process and way of work for Branch Staff and consequent impacts to expectations and touchpoints from Stakeholders

Successful completion of priority projects
