Design: Identify Job Duties and Value

Job Purpose and Organizational Context

Why the job exists:

This role leads the execution of workforce forecasting, scheduling, real-time monitoring, and performance reporting. The Supervisor ensures that workforce management (WFM) strategies are effectively implemented by guiding a team of coordinators and collaborating across departments. Through data-driven decision-making and proactive resource alignment, the role plays a critical part in achieving service level targets and enhancing operational efficiency. The role provides data analysis and reports to management, senior management, and Executive Directors.

Responsibilities

Job outcomes (4-6 core results), and for each outcome, 4-6 corresponding activities:

1. Team Leadership and Development

- Supervise daily activities of the coordinators ensuring accurate scheduling, forecasting and real time adherence monitoring.
- Provide coaching training and performance feedback to support coordinator growth and effectiveness.

- Proficient in employee relations, with expertise in interpreting Master Agreements, applying HR policies and directives, and managing disciplinary processes.
- Participate in planning meetings and contribute to strategic decision making.
- Lead initiatives to improve scheduling efficiency, reduce shrinkage and optimize workforce utilization.
- Foster a collaborative and inclusive team.
- Leads change and encourages staff to contribute to continuous improvement.

2. Performance Oversight and Compliance

- Monitor service level performance and escalate risks or deviations proactively.
- Conduct audits of scheduling and adherence data to ensure accuracy.
- Ensure compliance with labor laws, master agreement and policies in scheduling practices.
- Collaborate with stakeholders and system administrators to resolve issues and support future initiatives.
- Track and analyze key performance indicators (KPIs) across departments.

3. Strategic Analysis and Continuous improvement

- Prepare and present workforce metrics, trends, and recommendations to senior management.
- Support implementation and optimization of WFM tools, processes, and technologies.
- Ensure adherence to regulatory and internal standards, and drive continuous improvement.
- Identify opportunities for process improvement and lead initiatives to improve efficiency.
- Ensure training materials are up to date and training is conducted appropriately.

4. Collaborative Planning and Partner Engagement

- Collaborate with Supervisors, managers, HR, and EFS ministry and other stakeholders to align workforce plans with business needs to resolve issues and support future initiatives.
- Liaise with external partners and vendors to address escalated system issues impacting performance analysis and service delivery.
- Represent the branch on cross ministry project management work.
- Contribute to system upgrades and enhancements that improve workforce management capabilities.
- Monitor progress against collaborative goals and adjust plans as necessary to respond to changing priorities or conditions.

Problem Solving

Typical problems solved:

- Reporting to the Manager, this position oversees the analysis and reporting of workforce data to support operational excellence:
- Provide front-line leadership in troubleshooting workforce management issues for WFM Coordinators and branch operations.
  - Monitor forecast accuracy and investigate discrepancies in volume and queue performance.
  - Guide the team in resolving real-time operational challenges.
  - Apply sound judgment and analytical insight to ensure reporting tools are accurate and reflect operational realities.
  - Enable informed decision-making that maintains service levels and optimizes resource deployment across the branch.
  - Addresses employee relations issues, including conflict resolution, performance concerns, and disciplinary actions in alignment with HR policies and collective agreements.
  - Manages workforce planning, recruitment, and retention efforts to ensure operational efficiency and team stability.

Types of guidance available for problem solving:

The Supervisor uses historical data, forecasting models, and process documentation to guide operational decisions and support WFM Coordinators. They troubleshoot complex issues, investigate performance gaps, and ensure accurate reporting to reflect contact centre realities. By refining analytical approaches, the Supervisor provides actionable suggestions and feedback that help maintain service levels and optimize staffing decisions. Collaboration with leadership and front-line teams ensures solutions are both strategic and actionable.

Direct or indirect impacts of decisions:

Directly, they influence a business unit's staffing efficiency, service levels, queue performance, and the ability to meet operational timelines through the reports generated by the team. Indirectly, these decisions shape long-term planning, budget forecasting, and the branch's ability to respond to changing service demands. By ensuring the accuracy and relevance of workforce data, the Supervisor supports informed choices that drive both immediate results and strategic outcomes.

Key Relationships

Major stakeholders and purpose of interactions:

The Supervisor engages daily with operational teams to share useful data and help guide queue management decisions. They consult with the Management and program leads to resolve forecasting, staffing, and performance challenges. Weekly collaboration with Program Supervisors and Managers ensures alignment on strategic priorities and resolution of discrepancies. The role also involves liaising with external partners or vendors to address escalated system issues impacting performance analysis and service delivery, while contributing to future initiatives and system upgrades that enhance workforce management capabilities.
