PURPOSE: Give a brief summary of the job, covering the main responsibilities, the framework within which the job has to operate and the main contribution to the organization (see Section 2.3).

Reporting to the Manager of Investigations, the Consumer Investigations Unit (CIU) is an entry level position. This position promotes a fair marketplace by providing information to the public and business community, conducting investigations, and taking enforcement actions under department consumer protection legislation.

The individual has a basic knowledge of department legislation, policies and procedures, and systems used in the investigative process. The individual will investigate a variety of complaints, generally at a lower level of complexity, under the statutes administered by CIU and delegated provisions of the Criminal Code of Canada such as theft, fraud, false pretences and forgery. Investigations are monitored and direction provided on a frequent basis. Under the direction of the Manager/Director, the appointed Peace Officer will conduct investigations under the delegated consumer protection legislation and take appropriate enforcement action. Established Department Policy and Procedures set operating guidelines for investigations and file work.

As knowledge and experience are gained, the position works with decreasing direction and monitoring. Investigations are reviewed on a regular basis for action, appropriate application of legislation, and use of investigation techniques. The Investigator will develop contacts with external law enforcement agencies (City Police, RCMP, Government Agencies, Crown Prosecutors) and respond to inquiries from the public and business community.

RESPONSIBILITIES AND ACTIVITIES: The purpose of the job can be broken down in different responsibilities and end results. Each end result shows what the job is accountable for, within what framework and what the added value is. Normally a job has 4-8 core end results. For each end result, approximately 3 major activities should be described (see Sections 2.1 and 2.2).

1. Under direction of the Director/Manager of Investigations, investigate complaints and offences in a timely manner, in accordance with legislation.
